About the College:

Government Vidarbha Institute of Science & Humanities (GVISH), Amravati was established in 1923. The magnificent structure of the Institute in Gothic Architecture, on the vast campus of 168 acres was inaugurated on July 14, 1917 at the hands of Sir Franklyn Sly and Christened as 'King Edward College'. The Institute has left a special mark on socio-cultural and political milieu of Vidarbha, Maharashtra in particular and India in general. Alumni of the Institute include persons with honors as: Padmabhushan, Padmashri, Vir Chakra and held the offices of great repute including Chief Minister, Governor of State, Member of Parliament, Member of Legislative Assembly, etc. The Institute runs 22 UG and 19 PG programmes along with M.Phil and Ph.D. in 21 subjects. It has a rich library with more than 1.5 lakh books, 91 on-line journals, off-line journals, periodicals and magazines. Lush green campus with rich bio-diversity and pollution free environment are the great assets of the Institute.

Eligibility:
